Weddings

Congratulations on your engagement!

So your search for a wedding
photographer has begun?

So many photographers and so many different styles and personalities on offer.

Hopefully this information will give you an insight into my style of photography and tell you a little about myself and hopefully you can get that little bit closer to deciding on the right wedding photographer for you.

Amazing times are ahead for you both! And you have so much to look forward to.

What a joy it is to be able to share peoples wedding days with them and to be able to tell their story through my lens.

I began my career as a family portrait photographer which really allows me to understand people and families and the relationships that are most important to the couples I photograph.

I love getting to know how you both met, how you both got engaged and all the details that have made your day special and personal to you both.

Style

For me, this means unobtrusive story telling capturing all the emotion in a creative, artistic way blended with dramatic, stylised statement images.

Before the big day

If we've not met before then it's always good to have a catch up and discuss all things weddings. I love hearing about all the details that will make your day special to you.

Once I'm confirmed as your wedding photographer you can just sit back and relax and enjoy the run up to your wedding day.

Engagement Photography Sessions from £300

Want to get the party started early?

Then why not book one of my fun and relaxed engagement sessions.

Not only do we get to spend some time getting to know each other before your big day but, you can also get a little practice being in front of the camera! Not to mention loads of great images I promise you'll love!

On the day

I'm usually with you from your early preparations on the day of the wedding. This could be from the finishing touches to your hair and make up or from your first glass of champagne!

I will be taking photographs throughout the day capturing every special moment right up until the first dance.

After the big day

While you are both honeymooning and working on your suntans I will be busy working on and perfecting all your lovely images.

You may see the occasional shot online just to give you a taster!

I will have your wedding collection ready to deliver to you within 4 weeks of your wedding. All beautifully presented and ready for you to enjoy.

After your album design has been approved it's printed and ready to deliver to your home. A beautifully made product looking incredible and lovingly telling the story of your day.

Where do I start? First and foremost Ben is simply a top bloke and it has been an absolute pleasure to have him as part of our wedding experience. From the first meeting, through to the fun engagement shoot and the big day itself Ben offered such a relaxed, fun, personal, friendly service that I just don't think you get from many photographers. Thank you Ben. You're a true gent and a legend in the Cade household.

Laura & John

After years of waiting, we finally celebrated our wedding and throughout the whole process Ben was fantastic. From the very beginning, he listened carefully to what we liked / disliked & made the whole process feel relaxed & fun! On the day, Ben worked incredibly hard to make sure he captured every important moment on camera and we couldn't be happier with our collection of photographs. He went above and beyond our expectations and we can't thank him enough for our wonderful wedding album.

Thank you, Ben!

Emily & Byron

My boyfriend hired Ben to take photos of his surprise proposal in York. Ben was so conspicuous that I never noticed him until after my boyfriend was already down on one knee! We had so much fun at the photo session that it would have been easy to carry on with more time. The photos are gorgeous and we will look at them for many years to come. 100% recommend Ben without hesitation.
